

K. Churchill

children's poetry

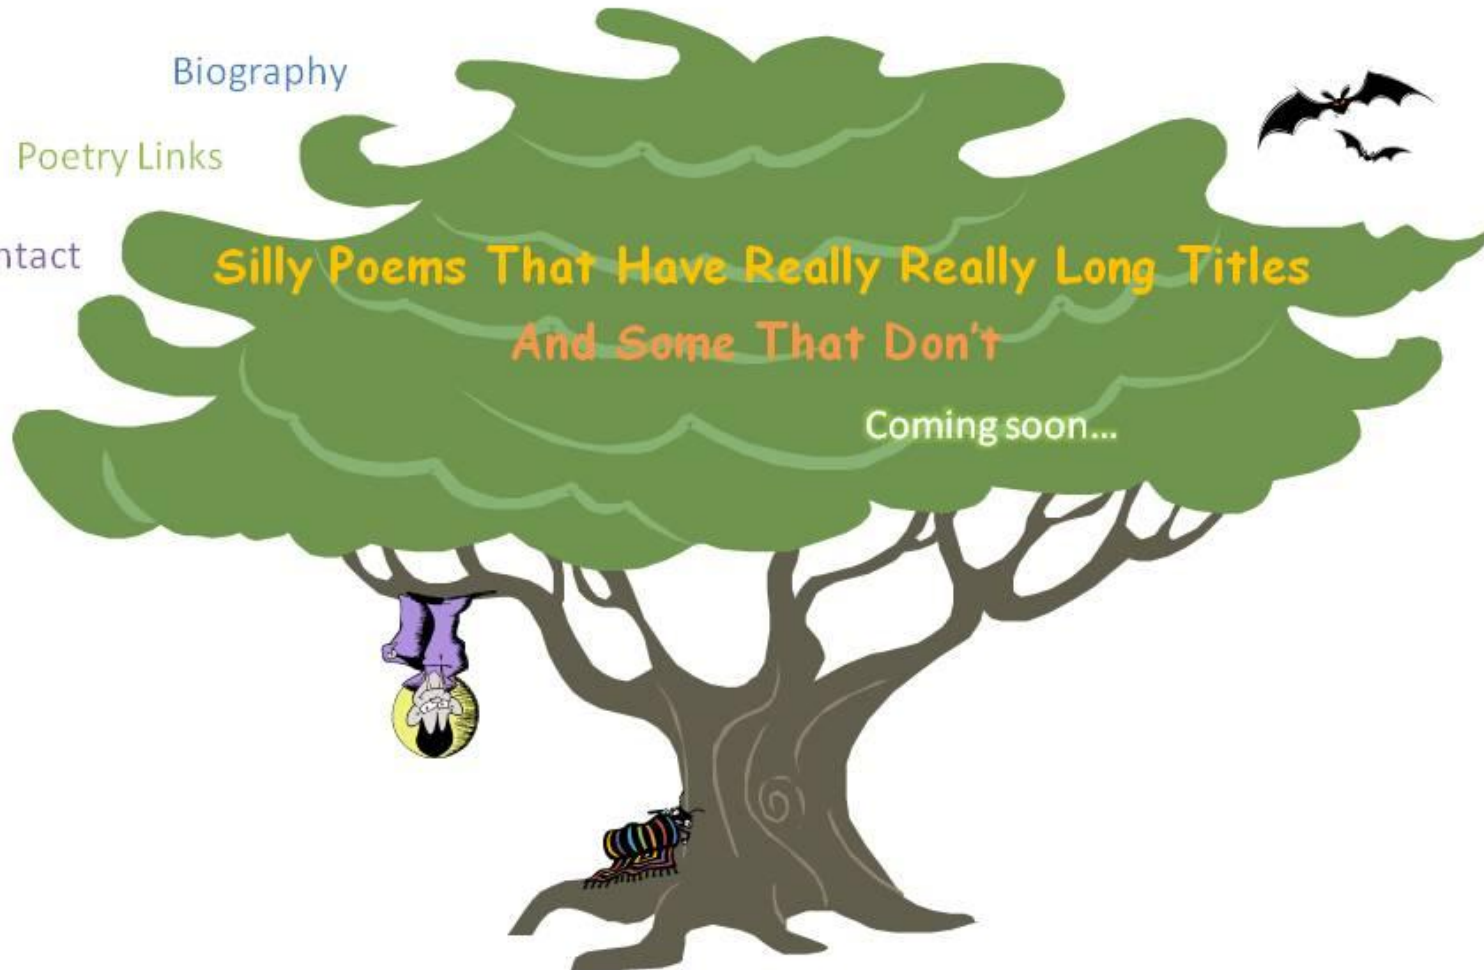

Biography

Poetry Links

Contact

Silly Poems That Have Really Really Long Titles And Some That Don't

Coming soon...

MY MOTHER'S ROASTING RHYMES AGAIN

By KM Churchill

My mother's roasting rhymes again
Sometimes it's quite amusing.
She sauté's words then pairs a rhyme;
It's almost like she's cooking.

I love you lots like jelly tots!
- She whips them up quite quickly
You're looking lean like lima beans!
- She thinks it is pretty nifty.

Round Halloween, she's rather keen
To call me Scrunchkin-Bunchkin.
She calls it from the kitchen where
She's baking pies with pumpkin.

Give her a hug; soon it's a squish;
Then you're a squishy-fishy!
I wouldn't mind except that I'm
A man now in my 50's!

